

RDM Industrial supplying products for marine, offshore, construction, healthcare - and other industries

Ready to help you at RDM Industrial, Water Street West, St. John's. At left, Christine Skanes, Credit Manager, and at right, Rhonda Williams. Product display shelves adjoin this area and show many of the items which the company supplies regularly to a variety of industries.

Quick Facts

- ✓ 24-Hour service. No order is a problem - 'Big or small, we take it all!'
- ✓ Experienced staff - most of whom have been with the company since it was launched nine years ago.
- ✓ Some of the product names are Stanley/Proto, North Safety, Gray Handtools, Bosch Power Tools, Pelican (explosive proof flashlights) - and more.

Making contact

RDM Industrial is located at 799 Water Street West, St. John's. Call 726-7690. Personnel on call after hours and on holidays.

Customer Comment

Gary Taylor represents TTL Supply here, a company that has been serving Industry throughout Atlantic Canada since 1987.

Since its inception, TTL has become Atlantic Canada's largest supplier to Industry for custom cut gaskets & gasket materials.

Relying regularly on RDM products and service Gary sums up his experience in one word: "Excellent!"

Peter Dunn is President of RDM Industrial. The company supplies a great variety of products for the construction industry, for marine and offshore interests, healthcare organizations and more. Based at 799 Water Street West, St. John's - telephone 726-7690 - personnel are on-call after business hours and on holidays.

It was a big move for a relatively young local company. Prior to moving into their current location, Peter Dunn and Paul Reddy operated their business, RDM Industrial Ltd., from rented space on Waterford Bridge Road. But just over a year ago they acquired building No. 799 Water Street West and launched a major renovation project.

It was really the only way to go. Looking back now on the small space they occupied initially, Peter finds it hard to believe they managed to keep things moving effectively.

"We started the business nine years ago. Each year we found we were growing. So when I look at the space we vacated last year - 2,800 square feet - or the smaller space we started with - I sometimes wonder how we did it!"

RDM Industrial now occupies parts of two levels in the new premises (well-known as the location of Michel's Bakery). RDM counter, display area, stock rooms and loading doors are accessed from the east side of the building. Offices are located on the second floor and provide fully modern accommodations with room to expand.

"When we started nine years ago, we had 1,000 square feet," says Dunn. "Now we have in the order of 16,000."

All of this renovation and development speaks to a supply business that is going places - proof that RDM Industrial does not stint on its service, product selection or product quality.

"We refer to ourselves as a one stop industrial shop," Dunn explains, "and we are serious about that. If we don't have the required item in stock, we'll get it. And we make no distinction between order size and importance - if you're looking for a $10 item or a $1,000 item, we are going to put effort into filling your order."

As it is, there are thousands of items in stock. The company is currently working with a 1,900-page catalogue. Lines include everything from hose fittings to boots, coveralls, power tools, hand tools, safety supplies, hand cleansers, paper products, hard hats - and that is only to identify a few things out of thousands. In short, Dunn says, "if it's made, we'll find it!"

Paul Reddy handles outside sales for RDM Industrial. The company bills itself as 'Your one stop industrial shop'. Paul, a partner in the business, can be contacted at 726-7690.